Applications

- Strobe mode to disorient threats; strike bezel for breaking glass or close-quarters defense.
- High beam for scanning large areas; red light for map reading or signaling without blinding rescuers.
- Hiking, camping, or hunting—red mode preserves night vision and reduces bug attraction.
- Ideal for vehicle kits, go-bags, or home defense; SOS mode for distress signaling.
- Reading documents, navigation, or low-profile observation without white light glare.
